Dear Council Members:

On June 26, 2010, members of Chickens in Stoughton?!? went on a public tour of several chicken coops in Madison's Tenney-Lapham neighborhood. Located in the heart of Madison, here's a map of the coop locations:

The group thought it would be helpful for those not able to make the tour to shoot a short video (less than 5 minutes) of some of the coops. You can view the video on YouTube at this address: <http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=mygL-womgZo>.

Overall, the group's impression of the coops was unanimously positive. No adverse neighborhood impact was observed, and the unobtrusiveness of the coops was surprising. We all came away knowing that hens could be successfully kept in Stoughton as well.

Should you need any other information regarding the tour, or having any questions regarding the keeping of chickens, please email us at info@chickensinstoughton.com.

Thank you
