Stoughton Power Plant #1
601 S 4th Street
Site Visit Summary

On July 18th at 5:30pm, a site visit was conducted at the Stoughton Power Plant, a Local Landmark building. Jen Davel, architect with the State Historic Preservation Office, met with members of the Landmarks Commission, City Council and City Staff to review the current condition of the building and provide feedback for next steps.

Based on her observations Ms. Davel spoke to the group and noted that although the interior suspended ceiling system has failed, the building envelope is solid and in repairable condition. The roof has obvious failure points which should be addressed. She noted the original roof covering was extant on the building and informed the group that further evaluation was needed to determine if it was repairable or needed to be replaced. Clay tile roofs have an expected life span of about 100 years, many lasting longer if kept in good repair. Given the age of the roof, she said the roof may be beyond its natural life span and if so would need to be replaced.

Ms. Davel noted that the exterior brick masonry was sound with some areas of mortar failure and cracks. She pointed out that many of the wall cracks are located in the corners of the building which typically corresponds to water infiltrating the wall from a leaking roof. The wall cracking will stop when the water stops entering the wall; therefore, it is important to address the leaking roof.

In summary, she told the group that the building was repairable and that she has seen many masonry buildings in much worse shape than this one easily repaired.

Recommendations for next steps:

Ms. Davel recommended that a temporary repair be made to the roof, something which can be made quickly and at low cost. She suggested that a tarp, properly attached to the building is a very common intervention and is often used as an emergency measure to stop water infiltration in advance of roof repair. She gave a recent example of the Zablocki VA Medical Center in Milwaukee, a National Historic Landmark, which recently used tarps on the roof of one of their historic buildings to stop water infiltration until the roof could be repaired.

She also recommended that we seek the advice of a building envelope repair company that specializes in the evaluation of historic buildings. She recommended that a firm that specializes in repairing historic buildings can give us advice regarding the extent of damage, recommend both long and short term appropriate repairs, and give us an estimate of probable costs.

Her final remarks addressed the opportunities for redevelopment of the property. If the city were to sell the building to a private developer/owner, the building may be eligible for historic preservation tax credits. The program offers up to 30% of approved rehabilitation costs as a direct credit on income taxes. To qualify for the program, the building would need to be listed in the National Register of Historic Places and the rehabilitation project would need to be approved by the State Historic Preservation Office before commencement of work.

a. Preservation award.

The annual preservation award recognizes community members who participate in protecting their historic properties by maintaining and rehabilitating them to standards that protect their historic character and the character of the community. This award fosters civic involvement.

- b. Update existing community map of historic districts and local landmarks.

The Landmarks Commission has an existing map of historic districts and local landmark properties available without charge to the public to promote the historic character of the community and encourage tourism. This map needs to be updated as it no longer reflects all of the designated local landmarks in the community. A professionally produced, accurate map will be printed for public distribution; an online version will be made available on the City's website and the Landmark Commission's website.

- c. Update the Landmarks Commission website.

The Commission website, www.stoughtonlandmarks.com, was created approximately 10 years ago and needs to be updated with new content and more modern, user-friendly navigational elements. New content would include a more comprehensive map depicting our historic districts as well as individually listed landmarks.

DESCRIBE HOW OFFER MEETS PRIORITY:

- a. Conferring a yearly preservation award fosters the relationship between the Commission and community members, recognizing the importance of historic preservation and how it protects the historic character of our community. Our historic character is an economic engine promoting tourism, creating jobs for local home restoration contractors and maintains property values throughout the community. Recognizing property owners who participate in this process encourages more of this activity in the community. Furthermore, conferring this award fosters the relationship between city government and members of the community by emphasizing that the work and investment property owners make in maintaining property and preserving the historic character of the community is supported by the Landmarks Commission (which is an arm of City government) and recognized at City Hall.
- b. Updating and distributing a map of historic districts and local landmarks promotes the city's unique community identity and reinforces that Stoughton is an attractive, welcoming community that values its arts and culture. Providing this landmarks map supports the goal of advancing the neighborhoods, and encouraging investment in historic neighborhoods.
- c. Updating the Landmarks Commission website helps educate and inform the public with regard to Stoughton's unique historic assets. It also promotes the city as an attractive community that values its history and heritage.

WHY SHOULD THE CITY PROVIDE THE SERVICE?

Public outreach and communication between the City of Stoughton, the Landmarks Commission and members of the Stoughton community is critical to fostering the protection of Stoughton's unique historic character. Stoughton's historic character is embodied in its historic public buildings, commercial buildings and in the hundreds of private residences located throughout the city. Fostering this relationship is prioritized in the strategy that desires an attractive, welcoming community. These services reach out to people who live in Stoughton and care about their community. And these services reach out to people who may not live in Stoughton - through promoting our historic community we attract visitors and tourism, which in turn supports small business owners in our downtown district.

MEASURES:

- a. Success is measured by recognition of historic preservation through the yearly preservation award.
- b. This offer is successful when the updated landmarks map is created; a map is printed for public distribution; and the online map is made available to the public through the City's and Landmarks Commission's websites.
- c. This offer is successful when the Commission website is updated with more modern, user-friendly navigational elements as well as new content, such as a map depicting our historic districts and properties.

- (b) No person shall alter, reconstruct or permit any alteration or reconstruction affecting the exterior of any landmark or landmark site unless the commission has approved such work and unless so approved, the building inspector shall not issue a building permit for such work.
- (c) Upon the filing of an application, the commission shall determine whether or not:
 - (1) The proposed work would destroy or affect in a deleterious way any important feature of the landmark or landmark site; and
 - (2) The exterior of any proposed improvement would not harmonize with the external appearance of neighboring improvements on such site.
- (d) If the commission decides both questions in subsection (c) of this section in the negative, it shall approve the work and issue a COA. Its decision shall be made within 60 days of filing. If the commission decides either question in the affirmative, it shall inform the building inspector to deny issuance of the permit. Review of denial of permits shall lie to the city council pursuant to chapter 2, article V, and statute. - (c) Upon the filing of an application, the commission may refuse to approve the work for up to ten months from the date of filing, during which time the commission and the applicant shall undertake serious, continuing discussions to try to find a method to save such property. During such time, the applicant and the commission shall cooperate to try to avoid demolition of the property. At the end of the ten months, if no mutually agreeable method of saving the property bearing a reasonable prospect of eventual success is underway, or if no formal application for funds from any governmental unit or nonprofit organization to preserve the property is pending, the building inspector may issue the permit without the approval of the commission.
- (d) The Commission shall be informed of all demolition permit requests and may request consultation.

Sec. 38-38. - Recognition of landmarks, landmark sites and historic districts.

After a landmark, landmark site or historic district has been designated in accordance with sections 38-34 and 38-36, the commission shall cause to be prepared and erected on such property at city expense suitable plaques or signs recognizing the landmark. Such plaques shall be placed for ease of pedestrian visibility. The plaques shall contain all information deemed appropriate for the landmark by the commission.

Sec. 38-39. - Rescission of landmark designation.

- (a) Designation may be rescinded upon petition to the commission and compliance with the procedures as follows:
 - (1) Petitions for rescission may be submitted to the landmarks commission for consideration and public hearing.
 - (2) When considering rescission of a landmark designation, the commission shall consider whether the landmark or district no longer meets the criteria for designation.
 - (3) The commission shall make a recommendation to the City Council including a report regarding whether the landmark or district does or does not continue to retain significance and integrity.
 - (4) The Council shall make its decision only after the above procedures have been followed.
 - (5) The Council shall rescind a designation only upon a finding that the designated landmark or district no longer meets the criteria for designation.
- ~~(a) — If the person listed as owner of record of a landmark site at the time of its designation is unable to find a buyer willing to preserve the landmark or landmark site, such person may petition the commission for a rescission of its designation. Such petition shall contain a statement under oath that the person has made reasonable attempts in good faith to find and attract such a buyer, as well as such further information deemed reasonably necessary by the commission for the purpose of evaluating the petition.~~
- ~~(b) — Following the filing of such petition, the owner and the commission shall work together in good faith for up to six months to try to locate a buyer for the subject property who is willing to comply with the designation. If at the end of the six months no such buyer can be found and if the owner still desires to obtain such rescission, the commission shall rescind its designation of the subject property.~~
- ~~(eb)~~ In the event of rescission, the commission shall notify the city clerk, building inspector and assessor of the rescission and shall cause the rescission to be recorded at its expense in the county register of deeds.

- (dc) Following any such rescission, the commission may not redesignate the subject property as a landmark or landmark site for at least five years from the date of rescission.

Sec. 38-40. - Economic hardship

- (a) The landmarks commission shall approve an application for a certificate of appropriateness in any case where the owner would suffer extreme hardship, not including loss of profit, unless the certificate of appropriateness were issued promptly.
- (1) Eligibility and terms. Notwithstanding any of the provisions of this division to the contrary, the common council may issue a certificate of economic hardship to allow the performance of work for which a certificate of appropriateness has been denied. The certificate of economic hardship requires a two-thirds vote of the full council upon a clear showing of economic hardship by the applicant in accordance with the terms of this section.
- (2) Application. To be considered for a certificate of economic hardship the applicant shall provide the following information in an affidavit signed by the owner of the subject property:
- (a) The amount paid for the property, the date of purchase and the party from whom purchased (including description of the relationship, if any, between the owner and the person from whom the property was purchased).
- (b) The assessed value of the land and improvements thereon according to the two (2) most recent assessments.
- (c) Real estate taxes for the previous two (2) years, and proof that they are paid in full.
- (d) Annual debt service, if any, for the previous two (2) years.
- (e) All appraisals obtained within the previous two (2) years by the owner or applicant in connection with purchase, financing or ownership of property.
- (f) Any listing of the property for sale or rent, price asked and offers received, if any.
- (g) Any consideration by the owner as to profitable adaptive uses for the property.
- (h) If the property is income-producing, the annual gross income from the property for the previous two (2) years, itemized operating and maintenance expenses for the previous two (2) years, and annual cash flow, if any, during the same period.
- (i) A description of the necessity for the work, as proposed, explaining the economic hardship resulting from denial of the certificate of appropriateness and/or the economic hardship that would be incurred in efforts to satisfy the criteria detailed in the denial of the certificate of appropriateness.

(3) Decision. If the common council finds that, without approval of the proposed work, the property and improvements cannot be put to a reasonable beneficial use or the owner cannot obtain a reasonable economic return there from the common council is authorized to issue a certificate of economic hardship. If the common council finds otherwise, it shall deny issuance of the certificate of economic hardship. At the discretion of the common council a final decision regarding issuance of the certificate of economic hardship may be delayed for a period not to exceed six (6) months. During this period of delay, the applicant shall investigate plans to allow for a reasonably beneficial use or a reasonable economic return, or to otherwise preserve the subject property and improvements. The common council may request that the landmarks commission provide assistance to the applicant in this endeavor. Upon a decision by the common council regarding a certificate of economic hardship, the city clerk shall notify the preservation commission, the applicant and the building inspector within seven (7) days.

(4) Effect of decision. The issuance of a certificate of economic hardship acts in lieu of a certificate of appropriateness for the identified work. The building inspector may proceed to issue building permits for such work following standard procedures once a certificate of economic hardship has been granted.

Sec. 38-410. - Procedures.

- (a) Before establishing any landmark or landmark site, the commission shall hold a public hearing thereon after giving at least ten days written notice of such hearing and appeal procedures to the owners and occupants of the affected premises and the owners of land located within 200 feet of the affected property. Notice of such hearing shall also be published as a class 1 notice under the statute. The commission shall also notify the building inspector and the public works committee of the hearing and they may respond to the commission's proposed designation in writing or by appearance. At any time after the closing of the public hearing, the commission may recommend that the city council designate the affected property as either a landmark or landmark site. Upon the request of any aldermember or the owner of a landmark or landmark site, a public hearing shall be held by the city council before it votes on whether or not to establish the landmark or landmark site. Notice of such designation shall be given to the property owner, the city clerk, building inspector, assessor and the county register of deeds.
- (b) The owner of any landmark or landmark site may, following the designation of the property, enter into voluntary restrictive covenants on the property with the commission. The commission may assist the owner in preparing the covenants in the interest of preserving the landmark or landmark site and the owner shall record such covenant in the county register of deeds and notify the assessor thereof.

Sec. 38-421. - Historic districts.

- (a) The commission may select geographically defined areas for recommendation for designation by the city council as historic districts and shall prepare, in ordinance form, an historic preservation and land usage plan for each such area. Each historic preservation and land usage plan shall contain specific guidelines for development, a list of appropriate and banned land usage and a statement of preservation objectives within the district.
- (b) The commission ~~together with the ordinance committee~~ shall hold a public hearing when considering the plan for a historic district. Notice of the time, place and purpose of such hearing shall be given by publication as a class 2 notice under statute in the official city newspaper. Such notice shall also be sent by the city clerk to the aldermember of the aldermanic ward in which the historic district is located as well as the owners of record, as listed by the assessor, of property located at least in part within the district at least ten days prior to the date of such hearing. The recommendation, if any, shall be forwarded to the city council for its action.
- (c) Upon receipt of such recommendation, the city council may by majority vote either designate or reject the historic district. The city council shall hold a public hearing prior to its vote on designation at which all interested persons shall be given reasonable opportunity to be heard. Designation of the historic district shall constitute adoption of the plan in ordinance form prepared for that district and direct implementation of such plan.

- (f) To the extent to which such is reasonably possible, the commission is empowered to invoke the provisions of sections 38-36 and 38-37, giving due consideration to the larger area of land involved and the degree to which the proposed change would materially affect the preservation objectives and design criteria of the historic preservation plan as duly adopted by the city council.

Sec. 38-432. - Maintenance of improvement on landmark site or within historic district.
